Public Lecture by Dr. Petr Kaniok,

“Euroscepticism, Brexit, and Czech Politics”

Petr Kaniok works as an Associate Professor at the Faculty of Social Science, Masaryk University, Czechia. He teaches courses on EU politics, particularly on EU political system, Euroscepticism and domestic impact of EU policies. His current research focuses on Visegrad cooperation within the EU and impact of Brexit on EU Member States. His most recent work has been published by East European Politics, Parliamentary Affairs or European Politics and Society.

When: November 5, 2019 at 6pm to 7:30pm
Where: Bate 1032

The Visegrad guest lectures have been sponsored by the International Visegrad Fund and the ECU Office of Undergraduate Research in collaboration with the Department of Political Science and the Security Studies Program.